"My house shall be called a house of prayer for all peoples."

Isaiah 56

We obtained the land. We raised the funds. We designed the structure. We built the facility. We furnished the rooms. We are the ones who occupy it, use it and maintain it. We cherish this House of God which we call Temple Beth Hillel.

But, there is something remarkable about a true House of God. It needs to be open to all.

After more than half a century, Congregation Beth Ahm of Windsor is closing its doors. Its founders and members built up a center for holiness to be expressed, for learning to shine and for community to blossom. We all benefited by their insights, labors and generosity of spirit. They are now looking for a new home, and are looking towards South Windsor.

Being true to who we are, we can do nothing other than be hospitable. That is what it means to be a House of God.

We feel bad for the hole left in the Windsor community. Let us celebrate their heritage of holiness.

May they always go from strength to strength.

B'shalom,
Rabbi G.

From the President

April at Temple Beth Hillel was incredible! We started the month with over 130 people attending our community seder, 30 from Beth Ahm. Mindy Glickman and Sarah Kaprove assembled a wonderful team and, with three clergy members leading us, it was a memorable event. A few weeks later, we marked Yom HaShoah with a new moving tribute, placing names into our building of people who perished in the Holocaust. Also that evening, Barbara Bergren shared her father's story of surviving three concentration camps. A week later, we celebrated Israel turning 70. The Religious School was visited by Israeli Emissaries. Our Rabbi was interviewed by NPR to discuss the Rohingya. On the social action front, we continued participating in the Hands On Hartford Kitchen to Pantry Initiative and we kicked off the one book project – The Working Poor: Invisible in America. And, not only did our Cantor lead us in song all month, but he also taught us all about Davening Do's and Don'ts.

In May, our Religious School begins to wind down for the year and there will be an end of school picnic as well as a Shavout Service on May 20th. We'll have more opportunities to get involved with Hands On Hartford and to participate in the one book discussions. Don't forget to come to Game Night on June 2nd, sponsored by the Membership Committee.

Behind the scenes, numerous volunteers are working tirelessly on many initiatives. This past month, we significantly improved our financial reporting and forecasting capabilities through a team effort that included John Halpern, Steve Brouillard, Dana Frank and me. That work will continue. We initiated discussions with Beth Ahm regarding a merger. We made real progress in our discussions regarding offering new programming for our youth in the post-B'nai Mitzvah years. And, we started planning future events. Temple Beth Hillel is a vibrant community and we always have a great amount going on. We still have a few open slots for next year's board and we can always find work for additional volunteers!

TORAH PORTIONS

Emor — Leviticus 21:1-24:23 — This portion begins with special laws of sanctity, propriety and purity for the priesthood. Leviticus 23 provides an overview of the biblical calendar, a listing of the LORD's appointed times.

B'har— Leviticus 25:1-26:2— This portion from the Torah introduces the laws of the sabbatical years, the jubilee and laws concerning redemption. In most years, synagogues read Behar together with the following portion, Bechukotai.

B'midbar— Numbers 1:1-4:20— — The book of Numbers tells the story of Israel's trek through the wilderness on their way to the Promised Land, their failure at the edge of the land and the subsequent forty years of wandering. It concludes with the story of the second generation's triumphs over the first Canaanite resistance. The book ends with the Israelites poised on the edge of Canaan, ready to take their inheritance. Woven in the midst of these narratives is a significant amount of legal material.

Naso— Numbers 4:21—7:89— This Torah portion finishes up the census of the Levites that was under way at the end of the last Torah portion, before going on to discuss the purification of the camp, the ritual for a woman suspected of adultery, the laws of the Nazirite vow, the priestly benediction and the gifts the heads of the twelve tribes brought for the dedication of the altar.

Yom HaShoah

On April 13th and 14th, we observed Yom HaShoah. Over 60 people attended the Friday night service and several people participated on Saturday. At the start of the service, six people were asked to come forward and light the Yom HaShoah candles, each one signifying one million people. The candles were traditional Yom HaShoah yellow candles with a yellow star and Rabbi mentioned that they represent the stars that Jewish people were forced to wear during the Holocaust.

Barbara Bergen shared a story about her father who had been in Dachau, Buchenwald and Auschwitz. Her father was liberated from Dachau and considered that day as his second birthday. Every person had the name of someone who perished. Some people, including Marsha Taback and Ken Wasserman, brought the names of their family members who were murdered. Everyone read a slip of paper with a name and then put the paper into the wall.

Jared Senelick designed the artwork, the star, with the word Jude to represent one of the yellow stars. The Men's Club donated the candles that were used in the service and made candles available for every member. If you were moved by the service and would like Men's Club to be able to continue to sponsor the event, please consider making a donation to the Men's Club.

Earth Day 2018

A generation goes, and a generation comes, but the Earth remains forever. The Jewish faith has a long tradition of being responsible for the care of the Earth. But it takes all of us and each of us. This Earth Day, Google sponsored a video of Dr. Jane Goodall sharing her experience of feeling connected to the Earth and that yes, ONE individual can make a difference. Watch her here. So, what can we do? Earth Day 2018's theme was plastic. I am going to commit to giving up water bottles, stop using plastic straws and stop using "wipes" such as cleansing face wipes and disinfecting cleaning wipes. Turns out those are pretty hard on the waste system and don't biodegrade. But we can also DO – like plant flowers that support bees and butterflies, put up bee and butterfly "hotels" (like bird houses but for bees and butterflies) and recycle, recycle, recycle. What a nice way to feel good about yourself and do a mitzvah!

Happy Earth Day Earthlings!

The Brit Olam

You've heard mention of the Brit Olam a few times at this point, and now you'll have an opportunity to sign it! After careful study and deliberation, the Brit Olam Society chose Economic Injustice as the focus of Temple Beth Hillel's Brit Olam Covenant.

On June 10th the Brit Olam Society will have an enlarged contract available for all congregants age 13 and up to sign. We believe this is a whole community effort. We want to make sure all of us are recorded as taking part in this wonderful endeavor.

We have quite a few initiatives in the pipeline, including the One Book Initiative, as well as the K2P Food Rescue on Mondays. More opportunities are upcoming at a variety of times to try to give more people a chance to participate.

Come to the Congregation meeting a little early to stop by our table and hear more. We'll have produce plants available for anyone willing to take one home to grow produce to donate to Hands-On-Hartford. The more we contribute as individuals, the more produce we can get into hands of those in need.

Don't forget to get your tickets for the SNAP Dinner Experience! Dinner, information on the SNAP program and the issue of hunger in South Windsor – games, raffles and all your friends will be there! You don't want to miss out! Facilitators include Mayor Saud Anwar and Andrew Paterna! May 9th @ 6:00 Cost is only $4.34 Call 860-644-1174 (or talk to Jennifer)

One Book TBH: Do You Know Alice?

The phrase "working poor" should not be part of the American lexicon. In this country, that prides itself on the achievability of the American Dream, these two words should not be so casually joined together. There is a new term floating around – perhaps you've heard of A.L.I.C.E. That is Asset Limited, Income Constrained, Employed. Fancy talk that disguises the problem, maybe? Is ALICE more respectable than working poor? South Windsor has about 7,020 families below the Federal Poverty Level and approximately 36% earn less than the Connecticut Living Wage (72K) or enough to sustain a "normal" standard of living. David Shipler's book Working Poor: Invisible in America he is unflinching in his descriptions of the indignities, humiliations, frustrations and diversity of poverty and attempts to cut through this thick-et of language to examine the personal, societal and institutional issues that are at the root of poverty and the lives of the working poor. The book is available for purchase locally at the Bookclub Book store at 869 Sullivan Avenue. Everyone who buys local will receive a 20% discount coupon and a bookclub goodies bags. We will have our first discussion meeting on June 12th at 7:00p.m. at the
