For my first message to the TBH newsletter, I want to echo the poem/song written by Leah Naor, סוף זה תמיד התחלה חדשה, which is the title, as it is particularly relevant to the situation we find ourselves in at this point in time. There is clearly much of value in all the traditions that have been built up here over the last several decades; the change in professional staff invites us to ask not only what we want to retain, but also what other options do we want to explore? The world has changed in the last few decades, and we along with it. Do we want to explore visual tefillah? Rosh Chodesh? New Members Softball Game? Jewish origami? Israeli Dance?

There is room at TBH for what YOU want to explore! We must be wise in our choices, as we all know beginnings are difficult. Let us begin the discussion and together we will find the way forward.

I come with an agenda of listening to what each congregant cherishes about their congregation and to support efforts to preserve those things. I am more of a catalyst than anything else in this Interim Year. I am clearly not Rabbi Glickman or Cantor Harris, so educate me about what TBH means to you, and imagine with me what else might be possible.

I am encouraged by the clear commitment to Tikkun Olam and community shown during my first Shabbat. Not only did dozens of congregants attend Shabbat services on Friday and Shabbat morning, but also some brought a few boxes for distribution to food pantries. Monday morning came and all of that food has begun to find its way to people in need. The function of TBH as מוסד, בית כנסת, house of gathering, has been fulfilled in its best sense already as we not only joined in prayer and celebration, but went beyond that to improve life for others outside our own "family".

FROM THE RABBI'S STUDY CONTINUED

I look forward to meeting more of you during Shabbat services or my soon to be published office hours. Feel free to send me an email or text at any time, please be patient about receiving a reply. I do occasionally set my phone down, and I don't read email on my phone. Wishing us all continued strength as we explore the road ahead together!

AN END IS ALWAYS A BEGINNING

Words: Leah Naor

An end is always a beginning of something else
Better?
Worse?
I don't know which is more ...something ELSE

When the road ends, some path begins
When the night is over, the morning begins
When an hour is over, another arrives
Only at the end of a statement does the mistake begin

Because an end is always the beginning of something else

There is a tomorrow to each day that passes
Every used dream is exchanged for one different
When the year ends — another year begins,
Every answer begins only at the end of a question

Because an end is always a beginning of something else

When the movie ends, real life begins
Sounds begin when there are no longer words
When we finish with the sound then we will begin to make a different one.
When we finish the song then we will begin to speak.

An end is always the beginning of something else
Better?
Worse?
I don't know which is more ... something else

THE PRESIDENT'S CORNER

TBH Family,

I hope you have been enjoying your summer so far and have not had the rain disrupt too many of your plans. I know that it has put a damper on some of mine, but I always enjoy the time to connect with friends and family while the weather is warmer outside.

At TBH, lots of things have been happening. I hope you had the opportunity to attend services in the past week with Rabbi Leah. She brings a new perspective on worship and I know that I was able to personally enjoy that this past Saturday morning. If you have not had a chance to attend services with her yet, I urge you to take the time to do so. As we start up the Rabbi search committee it is a good idea for us all to hear from another Rabbi so we can see and hear different approaches to services.

I wanted to send out a special thanks to all the people who have generously volunteered their time to paint, clean, and reconfigure the offices in the building. The rooms look better than ever and I know it was not easy work so thank you all for your hard work and dedication. Stop by and see how amazing it looks!

Lastly, I wanted to let you know that the Board has been working very hard on plans for the High Holy days as well as other special events to come throughout the year. While the chairs of the committees do a lot, they could always use help so please think about joining a committee to help us bring the best out of TBH. If you have any questions about where you might fit in, do not hesitate to reach out to me personally.

L'shalom,

Jeff Levin

From 'The Rabbi Emeritus' Study

There are many rabbis out there.

Rabbi Leah Benamy really stands out.

She is exceptionally qualified. But, more than that, she is a good listener and is sincere to the core.

Not only that, but she brings a depth of experiences and insights.

How wonderful that TBH and Rabbi Benamy found each other.

From strength to strength.

Shalom,

Rabbi G.

More August Social Action News

Join Our Temple's Produce Picking to Benefit Connecticut Foodshare
Thursday, August 17th – 9 a.m. to 12 noon at Auer Farm in Bloomfield

Every week, volunteers go to Auer Farm in Bloomfield to harvest vegetables grown by the UConn-affiliated Master Gardener program. All produce is donated to Connecticut Foodshare to feed people in need. The Healy family has been volunteering there this summer and know what a difference their help is making. That's why Evan Healy, his mom Amy and his Mitzvah Mate Marla Adelsberger, are sponsoring a morning of harvesting with TBH's B'Nai Mitzvah class.

Ten (10) volunteer spots are reserved for us on Thursday, August 17th from 9 a.m. to 12 noon (3 hours) at Auer Farm in Bloomfield. Since we are committed to filling all 10 places, they invite our B'Nai Mitzvah and Madrichim families, as well as TBH's Social Action Committee, and all ALL TBH members. Children ages 12 and up can attend if accompanied by an adult.

To sign up or get more info, email Amy Healy at amy@logn.net.

Special Announcement! Change in TBH Service Times:

Effective immediately, we will begin services at 7 pm on Friday nights and 9 am on Saturday mornings. The reason for the change is that we had been starting services at 6:45 pm and 8:45 am respectively so that Cantor Harris had time to "warm up" before the "official" service began. As we no longer have a Cantor, we do not need that extra time. Please feel free to still come early to schmooze with your friends, but understand that services will start at the new times going forward.

TORAH PORTIONS

EKEV The third reading from the book of Deuteronomy is named Ekev, a word from the first verse of the portion. Deuteronomy 7:12 says, "Then it shall come about, because (ekev, עַכְשָׁנָה) you listen to these judgments and keep and do them, that the LORD your God will keep with you His covenant and His lovingkindness which He swore to your forefathers."

RE'EH You shall not hesitate to give, nor murmur when you do give; because you shall know who is the good repayer of the hire. You shall not turn away from him that is in want, but you shall share all things with your brother, and shall not say that they are your own

SHOFTIM The commandment for the king to write a copy of the Torah demonstrates the work of Messiah. He Himself is the Word made flesh. He is the copy of the Torah in human form. Furthermore, He writes a copy of the Torah as He writes the Torah upon our hearts. The Torah of King Messiah is written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone, but on tablets of human hearts

KI TETZE Rabbi Meir said, There is a parable about this matter. To what can it be compared? It can be compared to two identical twin brothers. Both lived in a certain city. One was appointed king, and the other became a bandit. At the king's command they hanged the bandit. But everyone who saw him hanging there said, The king has been hung! Therefore the king issued a command and he was taken down.
