We have completed the month of Tishrei with its plethora of holidays, and, right at the end of the previous month, we completed the reading of Deuteronomy and began Genesis. The first few stories are GIANT in scope, literally mythic in their size and import: Creation, the Garden of Eden, Cain and Abel, Noah and the Flood, the Tower of Babel. Yet there are many, many more stories in Torah than these that are also fascinating and confounding which we don't read publicly, and few read privately. At this time of great decisions for our country as a whole, let me ask you to explore something completely non-partisan: the project known as 929. As we will discover early in November, there are many things we can learn which we have not yet discovered in the area of political engagement. Any change brings uncertainty, and no matter the outcome of the election, there will be change. As a counterbalance to that change, I challenge us all to dip a toe into our most foundational text as Jews: The Hebrew Bible! Here is a detailed explanation of the 929 project from Professor Marc Bregman: Slicing And Dicing The Tanakh 929 chapters: where did they come from? The current division of the Tanakh into 929 numbered chapters and verses may seem to be an integral and original component of the sacred scriptural text. However, it turns out that the numerically divided format of our Bible is a medieval Christian innovation, usually attributed to Stephen Langton, Archbishop of Canterbury in his 1226 edition of the Latin Vulgate. There are, of course, other ways of dividing and citing the scriptural text. Most familiar to Jews are the traditional weekly Torah portions (parashot, sidrot) according to which the Torah is read in synagogue. This way of reading through the entire Pentateuch according to an annual cycle reflects the ancient practice of the Babylonian Jewish community that was eventually accepted in most of the Jewish world until today. However, a so-called triennial cycle of Torah readings was practiced in the Land of Israel and Jewish communities under its influence until at least the 12th century, completing the Torah once every three years. These shorter and more numerous Torah portions, known as Sedarim, are marked in the margins of the text with the Hebrew letter Samekh in some Biblical manuscripts and conveniently numbered in the widely accepted Tanakh Koren (Jerusalem 1962).

The earliest surviving manuscripts of Scripture, discovered at Qumran in the Dead Sea Scrolls indicate sense divisions in the Hebrew text by simply leaving spaces. The early Midrash on Leviticus, Sifra teaches that the “breaks” (hafsot) between the “sections” and “subjects” in the Biblical text were to give Moses time for reflection between consecutive parts in the flow of the Scriptural text. According to Talmud Nedarim 37b, the division of the Biblical text into readily understandable units goes back to the initial public reading of the Torah in the time of Ezra and Nehemiah. Menachot 32a mentions briefly the division of the Biblical text into “open and closed” sections to which Maimonides devotes an extensive Halakhic discussion. These parashiyot petuhot ve-setumot are preserved in our Torah Scrolls. They are marked by the Hebrew letters peh (petuhah) and samekh (setumah) in the authoritative Masoretic text preserved in vocalized Biblical manuscripts and printed Hebrew Bibles to this day.

In addition to the “Rabbinic Bible” (Mikra'ot Gedolot), first published by the Christian printer Daniel Bomberg in Venice in 1517, a famous example of a printed Hebrew Bible is the edition published by the Jewish printer Joseph Athias in Amsterdam in 1661 and 1667, edited by the Christian Professor Johannes Leusden of Leyden. Upon its publication Athias was elected to the Amsterdam printer's guild, an unprecedented honor for a Jew. In 1667, the Dutch government presented Athias with a gold medal and chain, in recognition of his having produced a reliable text of the Hebrew Bible for study by both Jews and Christians.

The 929 Tanakh project provides a contemporary on-going forum for our exploring the Bible together regardless of religious persuasion.

SOUTH WINDSOR'S INTERFAITH THANKSGIVING SERVICE SET FOR TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 26 AT FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

On Tuesday, November 26 at 6:30 p.m., Temple Beth Hillel again will participate in South Windsor's annual Interfaith Thanksgiving Service. This year, the uplifting event will be held at First Congregational Church of South Windsor, UCC, at 993 Main Street.

This annual free community-wide event will feature inspirational readings, comments, music and songs by area clergy and leaders of many faiths, including our own Rabbi Leah Benamy of Temple Beth Hillel, Pastor Dean M. Kucera of First Congregational Church of South Windsor, Rev. Christine Boylan from Unity Church of Greater Hartford, and others.

Praying in an interfaith community can remind us that we are here for each other, and with each other...especially now. Light refreshments will follow. People do not need to belong to a house of worship to attend. No reservations are necessary. Please plan to come, as there will be no virtual feed.

President's Corner

TBH Family,

I hope this letter finds you well and you are enjoying the changing seasons. I know my family and I love watching the leaves change color as we brace for the cold of winter. Lots have been going on here at Temple in the past month as well. From the High Holidays to Sukkot, to Simchat Torah, it was a busy October for sure!

November is upon us and we are not slowing down. We start the month with the Bar Mitzvah of Dylan Solomon on November 2nd. Please make sure to attend and support this young man who has been working so hard.

Next up on the calendar is the Vendor and Craft Fair that we are hosting on November 3rd. Please come and support these amazing vendors who are helping to support our community as well.

The last event I want to call out is the annual Interfaith Thanksgiving Service, but I wanted to make sure that you note that the location is changed. I know we have hosted this for the past few years, but it is time to let others host this amazing event. This year, it will be held at the First Congregational Church, which is located at 933 Main Street in South Windsor, on Tuesday, November 26th at 6:30 p.m. Let's make a concerted effort to show up in large numbers there, as they always have done while we have been the host. It is always one of the best services of the year and something that I look forward to each year. I hope to see you there.

I also want to take a few minutes to give an update about our Clergy search. As I had said over the summer, we will be submitting our applications very shortly to both the CCAR (Rabbi) and ACC (Cantor). The committee has been meeting all summer to make sure our application puts our best foot forward and we get matched with our next seated clergy. I am sure there will be updates coming soon and I thank everyone for their help and support in this endeavor.

L'Shalom,

Jeff Levin
President
Temple Beth Hillel

SEEKING THANKSGIVING MEAL HELP TO FEED HUNGRY PEOPLE FOR HARTFORD'S WALK IN THE LIFE CHURCH OF GOD

For many years, the Walk in The Light Church of God and Archbishop Dexter Burke have provided turkeys to families in need, along with meals on Thanksgiving Day. They serve individuals who have suffered tremendous pain, loss, hunger, and homelessness compounded by the rise in traumatic events occurring in Hartford due to gun violence and crime.

This year, the church hopes to distribute 400 frozen turkeys and nonperishable grocery items to members of their community at its Sunday, Nov. 24th morning worship service. As always, we are collecting Thanksgiving foods they can use at the meal or provide to community members in need. Collection baskets and bins are in the TBH lobby.

They also seek monetary donations to make this possible. If you want to help, you can contribute to our Temple's Social Action Fund so we can provide funds, food and items.

Checks can be made out to Temple Beth Hillel/Social Action and mailed to the Temple.

To donate via Credit Card, call Sam in our office at 860-282-8466 Ext. 0.

Update on TBH's Social Action Food Collections

Good News: During the High Holy Days, TBH members and guests continued our Tzedakah tradition of bringing food and funds to services for Connecticut Foodshare.

All were delivered to the Bloomfield site several weeks ago.
Thanks to all who helped in the past month.

Tough News: URGENT SOCIAL ACTION CALL FOR SUPPORT: SEEKING FOOD DONATIONS NOW TO STOCK OUR LITTLE FOOD PANTRY

We continue to stock our outdoor Little Food Pantry for people in need. However, in recent weeks, our neighbors have picked up food items on a more frequent basis...and the cold weather months are just around the corner.

We are in dire need of nonperishable food to stock our Pantry.
We just filled it with the last of the food in our lobby's bins.

If you can help, bring nonperishable food item(s) to any TBH service or event
OR to Sam in the office weekdays between 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

Items always needed:

Peanut butter & jelly, spaghetti sauce & pasta, canned meats and fish, crackers, cold cereal, baked beans, canned fruits and vegetables, rice/grains, fruit juice, coffee, tea and hot chocolate.

All the food you donate in the coming weeks will fill our Little Food Pantry and when we get more, we can help Archbishop's Burke's neighborhood in Hartford's North End; and Manchester's MACC Charities Emergency Food Pantry.

Religious Practices Committee Oneg Update

Dear Temple Family,

As you all know, our Friday night Onegs are a wonderful way to reinforce our social connections and they are a vital part of our TBH community. We are reorganizing the way that we plan for these Onegs in order to make sure that we have support throughout the year. For this, we need your help.

In the past, we have assigned families to an Oneg date but, during COVID, this practice was suspended. Since services are back to being fully in person, we are returning to this practice with a few changes:

You may still choose an Oneg date that is the most convenient for you and you may also partner with other temple members to host that Oneg. If you are planning to share an oneg with another temple family, please consider choosing two dates during the year to host, so that we may be able to cover all the dates on our calendar.

If you do not want to choose a date, we will assign one to you. If the date that you are assigned is not convenient, you have two options: either switch dates with another temple family or financially support an Oneg for $54. You will still be acknowledged as the sponsor of the Oneg during services, but our office admin, Sam, will purchase items to be delivered to TBH that will be used for the Oneg. If this poses a financial hardship for you, please contact Rabbi Leah.

We hope that this new system will allow our Onegs to be provided for our temple family without issues. We thank everyone for supporting the Onegs for the past few years and look forward to your help in the future.

Please click the link below to be taken to the Oneg Signup Genius so that you may select a date or dates that work best for you. If you have already signed up for an oneg between now and the end of 2024, your name has been added to that signup and that date is still yours. If you are more comfortable having Sam sign you up for a date, please call him at 860-282-8466 and he will add you to the Signup Genius. Please choose a date by November 30th.

Oneg sign up: <https://www.signupgenius.com/go/10C0A4CAEAD22A2F8C43-50853197-5785#/>

When your selected Oneg date approaches, you will receive an email from the office with instructions and all the information that you need for the evening.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact

Rebecca Chaimovitch, VP of Religious Practices

Committee at rjchaimovitch@tbhsw.org.

Thank you for helping to support our Temple Onegs!

Sukkot 2024

The Annual TBH Sukkah Hop!

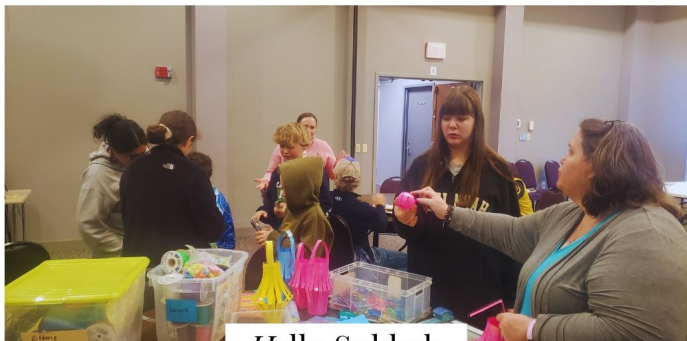

TBH has a long-running tradition, fondly named the “Sukkah Hop”, where members visit a different Sukkah during each night of Sukkot! Visitors are welcomed to the homes of various congregants and offered snacks and great company, as well as the opportunity to fulfill the mitzvah of saying the Sukkot blessings in their Sukkah. This is an event for all ages, and it was wonderful to see so many members of our congregation enjoying themselves together during this holiday of joy! As you will see from the photos, fun was had by all!!

Many thanks go out to the families who hosted congregants in their homes: The Healy Family, The Kaprove Family, and The Maltz Family! Also thank you to the Religious School Families, who supplied “Snacks in the Sukkah”, and to the congregants who supplied snacks for Shabbat in the Sukkah. And special thanks to the donor, who wishes to remain anonymous, who generously supplied all of the pizzas for “Pizza in the Hut”! This person had many fond memories of time spent with the TBH Junior Youth Group in years past, and wanted to pay that kindness forward. Thank you!

Religious School Update

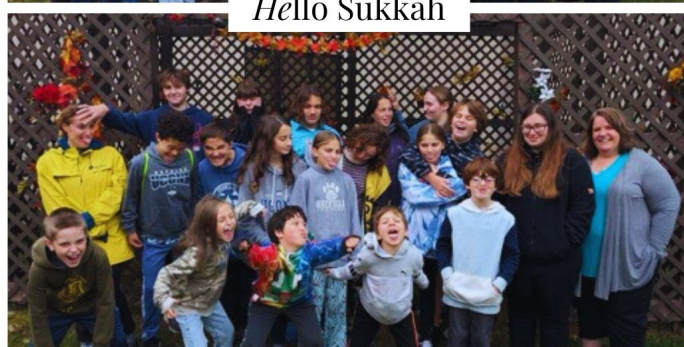

We had so much fun decorating the Sukkah at Temple on October 13! Then on October 22 we took pictures of a few of our students holding the Lulav and the Etrog during Hebrew school. And, we have fun photos from the Sukkah Hops held at the Healys on 10/16 and the Kaproves on October 17.

Hello Sukkah

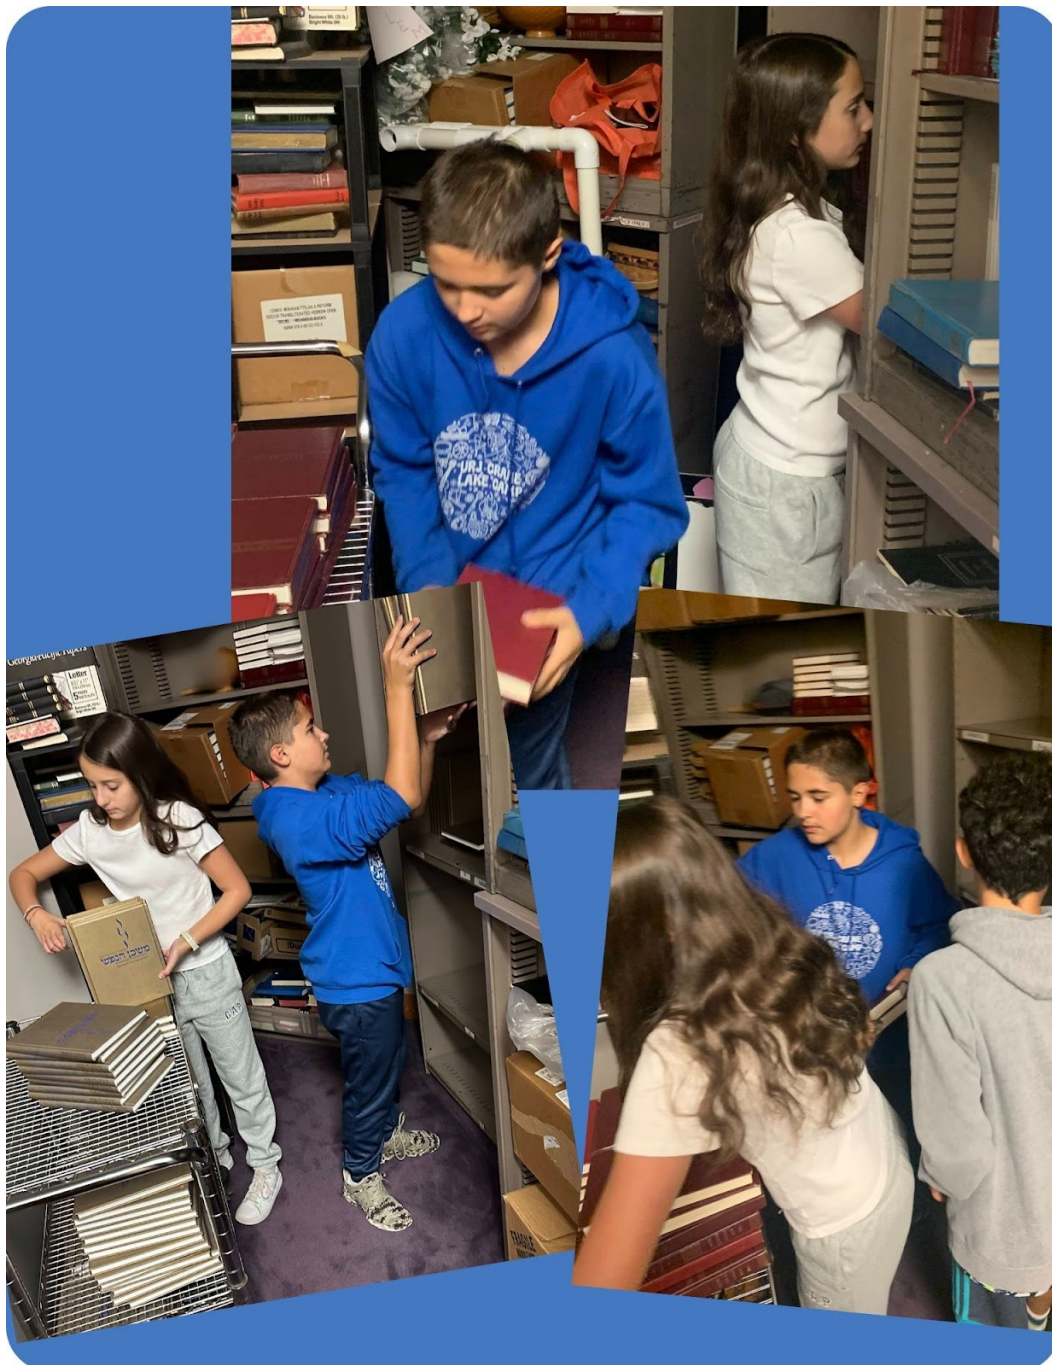

Hello Sukkah

A Mitzvah at Temple Beth Hillel

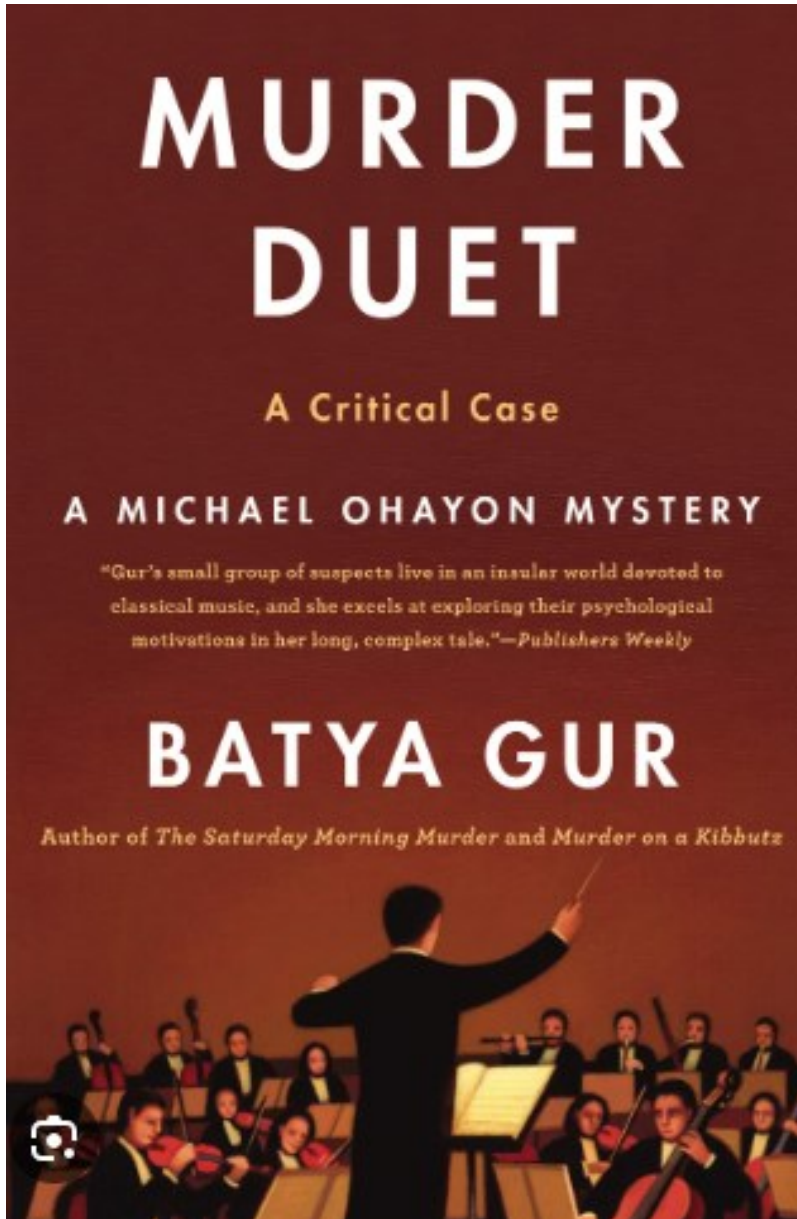

A few of our TBH students got up early on the Sunday after Rosh Hashanah and performed a wonderful mitzvah for Temple Beth Hillel! A big todah to our Hebrew school students Jacob Maltz, Abbie Kaprove, and Edwin Lassman, who collected all of the Rosh Hashanah machzorim (prayer books) and put out all of the Yom Kippur machzorim just in time! That was a big job that needed to be completed in a very short time, so having your help was appreciated.

But that is not all they did! These students then took on an even bigger task: they cleaned out and re-organized the storage room behind the bimah! Prayer books that are no longer in use were removed and relocated, and spots were created for our new high holy day machzorim. This took several hours of the students working diligently. If you see Jacob, Abbie, or Edwin, be sure to thank them for their efforts! (See below for photos) Thank you, also, to the parents of these students, as well as our Board President, Jeff Levin, and his son, Jake Levin; your time and energy for completing this project are greatly appreciated as well!

TBH BOOK CLUB

The next TBH Book Club meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 12 at 1 p.m. at Temple. We will be reviewing Murder Duet: A Musical Case by Batya Gur. Come join us! All are welcome.

Friends of TBH will meet for lunch on Wednesday, November 13 at Jim's Pizza at 124 Poquonock Ave, Windsor.

TORAH PORTIONS

Parashat Noach Genesis 6:9-11:32; Numbers 28:9-15

Noach ("Noah") begins as God decides to destroy mankind with a flood. At God's command, the righteous Noah builds an ark, where Noah, his family, and select animals survive the flood. Noah's children bear children, and several generations develop. God confounds the speech of people building the Tower of Babel.

Parashat Lech-Lecha Genesis 12:1-17:27

Lech Lecha ("Go Forth") recounts Abraham's (here known as Abram) first encounter with God, his journey to Canaan, the birth of his son Ishmael, the covenant between him, his descendants, and God, and God's commandment to circumcise the males of his household.

Parashat Vayera Genesis 18:1-22:24

Vayera ("He Appeared") opens as guests inform Abraham that Sarah will give birth. Despite Abraham's attempts to convince God otherwise, God destroys the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah. Sarah gives birth to Isaac, and Abraham sends away Hagar and Ishmael. At God's command, Abraham prepares to sacrifice Isaac, but an angel of God tells Abraham to offer a ram instead.

Parashat Chayei Sara Genesis 23:1-25:18

Chayei Sarah ("The Life of Sarah") opens as Sarah dies and Abraham buys the Cave of Machpelah to bury her. Abraham sends his servant to find a wife for Isaac. The servant meets Rebecca at a well, and Rebecca returns with the servant to marry Isaac. Abraham remarries, has more children, and dies at age 175

Parashat Toldot Genesis 25:19-28:9

Toldot ("Generations") opens with the births of Isaac and Rebecca's twins, Jacob and Esau. Esau sells his birthright to Jacob in exchange for soup. Isaac and Rebecca travel to Gerar, where Isaac makes a peace treaty with King Abimelech. Isaac gives Jacob the blessing meant for Esau, and Jacob runs away to his uncle Laban.
